DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 33-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by 5,613,890 to DeMars. DeMars discloses a housing having a front opening (fig 1-2), a bubble generating ring positioned adjacent the front opening (106), an air generator (60 and 62) associated with the housing that directs air towards the bubble generating ring and an air control system that has a cover element (72) positioned adjacent the air inlet (via openings 68) which is adjusted to cover selected portions of the air inlet (column 4 lines 37-64 of the specification); wherein the air generator is a fan that is aligned with the bubble generating ring (fig 3); wherein the air generator is housed inside the housing (fig 3); further including a motor (48) retained inside the housing and coupled to the air generator (fig 3) and a trigger (18) coupled to the motor for activating the air generator (column 3 lines 63-67 and column 4 lines 1-36); further including a source of bubble solution (110) and a tubing (98) that couples the source of bubble solution and the bubble generating ring, a pump system coupled to the tubing and a trigger coupled to the pump system to control the delivery of the bubble solution to the bubble generating ring (column 5 lines 4-43).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/29/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The examiner maintains the rejection of the claims as being anticipated by '890 to DeMars. DeMars discloses in column 4 lines 38-65, that there is a cover element 72 that is adjusted to selectively cover the air inlet 68.

Regarding the argument that the plate 72 completely covers air inlet opening 68, this is not supported by the specification of DeMars, in line 48 of column 4 states that the "hole 74 being moved from a non-aligned position to a partially aligned position with the external air inlet opening 68". Also see lines 64-67 of column 4 and lines 1-3 of column 5 which states that although figure 6 shows the 74 and 68 to be concentric, in actual practice this will probably not occur because it would not be desirable to have the maximum volume of external air conducted into the fan housing.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
